He is gone who seem'd so great —
Gone; but nothing can bereave him
Of the force he made his own
Being here, and we believe him
Something far advanced in state,
And that he wears a truer crown
Than any wreath that man can weave him.
But speak no more of his renown,
Lay your earthly fancies down,
And in the vast cathedral leave him.

God accept him, Christ receive him.

PROPHECY OF 1982 . . .

June, 1992

Pam,
Hi! Guess what? We were the only people not to attend our 10th class reunion. I did a little research on — what shall I say — the rather "unique" class of 1982. You know, it seems that only yesterday you and I were worrying because we didn't have a college and a major picked out. I remember what you wrote in my yearbook once, "Remember me when you are the chief photographer at Playgirl and I'm Pamela the Nun." Right!! Sure!!

Oh, yes, I have to start with the class stud, Larry "Uncle Lar" Rowland. Some of his close friends tell me Larry has a very large family now. (Twenty three kids at last count & I'm not talking goats!) I dropped over to talk to Lar, and he told me he had a chance to play drums for the mega-ton rock group, Illusion, but he just had to feel pavement under his wheels so he switched to racecar driving. I hear he is making a "kill" at it.

Vernon Martin opened an advice office in all the major cities across the United States. The name of the office is "Vern's All You Need to Know About Romancing Women Shops." He desperately tried to get Dan Sale to be head counselor, but Dan was far too busy. It seems Dan is now the top PR man for the Jack Daniels distillery. It seems that his high school years showed him his fate. Funny, I always thought Dan would be an English teacher, since he loved English class.

Of course, you have heard of Val Michlig's accomplishments. Val went to Bradley University but dropped out in the middle of her sophomore year, after finding fame with her invention — the first computerized speech student. She told me she couldn't decide between computers, buying out Calvin Klein, or becoming one of the few female "Kings." So she did all three!

Sheila — what to say about Sheila!! We all knew she would become an OB nurse, but she didn't give us one bit of an idea that she would stay on at old MHS to help Ms. Brokaw get the yearbook out every year. Or the fact that she was opening a clinic for students under severe mental stress from studying. Oh yes, Sheila was always a very energetic and "wise" girl.

Oh, did you see Kim Mueller on TV the other day? Kim has perfected her own volleytennis game and has gone on to coach a team at the Olympics. I heard that she tried to get Mark "The Leaf" Lane to be her star spiker, but he turned her down because he was too busy making his first million dollars. I know you have heard of the "I Love Swino Club". Mark invented the club and is now making millions off it. You know the picture of the pig with the apple in his mouth being roasted? That was Dan Fuhr's idea. Now a sad note to this story — the Pork Producers all over the country are trying to stop Mark from his supposedly inhumane treatment of Swino, but a Supreme Court ruling has saved Swino. I heard all of this on "Animal Stories."

The next person I have on my list is Dawn Hotchkiss. Remember how she always seemed to be working over at the Walnut Manor? Now, due to dedication and promotion, she owns the Walnut Manor and 13 similar institutions across the state. She also has her office building in the booming town of Dingley.

The last person on my list is Mitch Lanxon. Mitch told me he quit the gasoline business. Remember how he used to carry his stereo with him all the time? Well, he decided to break into the rock-n-roll world. He bought out all the Co-op Record Stores. I guess he's got a wife. Guess Who??

Well, me, I'm married now. Paul and I finally set a final, permanent date. After school I had several options opened up to me (and NO, Playgirl wasn't one of them!). I really couldn't decide between being a photographer for Sports Illustrated, being the manager for one of several rock-n-roll groups, or going on to a higher institution of schooling. So, I made the big decision — none of the above!! I got married and now am one of the first professional bums!!

Well, write soon and tell me what you have heard.

Krista

P.S. Is Sherry still the President of the Rula Lenska Fan Club?!!?

Krista,
Hi! I was really glad to get your letter. It sounds like the reunion was really great. Sherry was there and has since filled me in on what's happening in everybody's lives.

First of all, she started off with Kim Mullin. The one thing I thought of when I heard Sherry say her name was music. She's always had a really great voice. Now, she's reached her ultimate goal — her number one idol was always Barbra Streisand, and now she's recorded a single with her that's moving quickly up the charts.

Speaking of show business, do you remember how Todd Polte always captured the attention of the home town audience in the plays at school? Well, I found out that he did go to college and became an X-ray technician as planned. But, the acting in his blood still kept him moonlighting in a little acting group called "Andresen and Company."

Next we talked about Penny White's accomplishments. After all the compliments she received in school on the pants she made in sewing class, she just couldn't help but become the great fashion designer Penelope White. Her famous styles have since pushed Gloria Vanderbilt and Calvin Klein out of the way. "Penny" can be seen on all back pockets!!

I guess I should tell you about Dan Fuhr and Tom Long. They both went into the Army at the same time. I've talked to both of them recently and they agreed wholeheartedly, there's nothing like the good ole Army life. But don't get the idea that these two guys are all seriousness and no play. They still have their sense of humor. I've heard the base has been resembling the movie "Stripes" lately. We'll have to check that out!!

Speaking of the military, I heard some really exciting news on TV yesterday — the Swedish Air Force has just started something new — female pilots. Guess who the first one was? No other than Sofia Sternang, our Swedish exchange student. We all know how strict and serious the Swedish Air Force is, but obviously Sofia has lent them some of her good humor — she has "World's Greatest Swede" written on the side of her plane.

Jamie Oberele has always been the athlete in our class. Remember in high school how he was always out for every sport? Well, after graduation he couldn't decide whether to become a professional football or basketball player. So, he became a coach at good ole MHS, not just in one sport, but in football, basketball and track.

Last but not least, Sherry Hansen told me of her own life. She went to college and majored in math and computer science. She's now married and travels around the world with her husband who's the president of a large computer company in New York. Sherry excitedly told me of her travelling experiences. We talked about how we had had the chance to go to France when we were freshmen — well, she achieved that dream. She not only went to France, but also visited Sofia in Sweden.

Finally me. I married Doug, my high school sweetheart, and I got my teaching degree in Spanish and now teach high school Spanish classes. I'm happy, and from what I've heard, everyone else is too. Well, I think that about covers everything about the class of 1982. What do you think? I think we've all done well, so far. We'll have to reminisce again when our next reunion arrives. I wouldn't miss it for the world.

Pam

P.S. I think Sherry gave up on the Rula Lenska Fan Club about the same time as her Yvonne Gordon book went on the bestseller list.

1982 WILLS

I, Troy DeSkeere, do hereby will my ability to do my double-pump and hook shots to the future MHS basketball players so that my technique to impress the coahces will not be lost forever.

I, Sheila R. Doty, being of sound mind and body, hereby will to Susie Hunt a car of her very own that does wheelies; to Robert DeBrock, one permanent black eye so he won't have to make fun of my hereditary dark circles; to my loving sister, Dana, the right to give me all of my clothes that are hers to take to school next year; and finally to Dan Fuhr, a fellow classmate, the ability to spell SHEILA right without following the rule i before e except after c.

I, Daniel J. Fuhr, being of misplaced mind and displaced body, will to Dan Sale $12,000 for his delightful car (well worth it!); to Tom Long, my gung ho-ness in the Army; to Ms. Brokaw, one easy day in class; to Mr. Lane and Mrs. Peterson, one straight jacket each for the class trip.

I, Sheryl Ann Hansen, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will to Teri Jo Hedrick, one order of groceries delivered by her favorite groceryman; to Amy Erickson, my smut-writing ability and the pen name Yvonne Gordon, so she can write smut as well as read it; to Teri, Pam, and Sofia, the ability to resist the temptation of cruising Princeton when Kim and I are attending to important business in Pizza Hut.

Being of demented mind and bruised body, I, Dawn Hotchkiss, would like to will Julia Burba my ability to be followed around by Wild Man alias Dur Hur; to Rita Peterson and Teri Jo Hedrick, my position as Booga #1 in hopes that they can better the organization; to Trudy Gerbitz and Amy Erickson, free tickets to see Bob & Doug McKenzie where ever they may be.

I, Mark Lane, being of sound mind (as sound as it may be) after going to school here) and broken down body, do hereby bequeath all of the money I have in my Swiss bank accounts to the noble Manlius School system to Mike McVey, half a brain so that when people say he only has half a brain, they won't be exaggerating.

I, Mitch Lanxon, of sound mind and worn out body, will the Junior Class advice on how to drive safely — Stop drinking, and your problems will be solved; to the Sophomore Class, who has so many problems with themselves always yelling at one another, stick together and keep your comments to yourselves and the class will get along much better; to the Freshmen Class who think they are better than everyone else, grow up some more and stop thinking only about yourselves and maybe people would think better about you.

I, Tom Long, will a robot to Ms. Brokaw to put up all the chairs in the Typing Room; to Mr. Kerley, a full year's supply of Coke so he doesn't have to bother the basketball players for money to buy Coke at practice.

I, Vernon Martin, will lots of good luck to the Class of 1985.

I, Valerie Michlig, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will to Dee King and Bonnie Michlig the cute little guy that runs around washing tables at McDonalds; to Dee King, the ability not to fight with her darling brother, Don; to Kathy Lane, the star role in the new stage play "The Elephant Woman"; to Mark Lane and Dan Fuhr, a book on how to be nice to Swedes; to Sheila Doty, a pair of extra durable gloves that are flame and chemical resistant so she will not burn her fingers in lab next year at college.

I, Kimberly Mueller, being of somewhat crazy mind and tired body, will to Trudy Gerbitz my ability to not back into ditches; to Cheryl Notschaele, I will my ability to make it to the school by 7 a.m. to catch the Vocational bus; to the people in Lounge Mods 12 & 13, clothespins to wear on their noses on those days they clean.

I, Kim Mullin, being of worn out mind and fairly sound body, hereby will to Teri Hedrick one date with Mike or John, one weekend to Wisconsin and one awful reputation; to Rita Peterson, one box of uppers, "The Walgreen Specials", also one weekend in Wisconsin with Freddie, and one awful reputation; To "Romeo", I hereby leave one black bowtie, one performance on stage, and Teri's and Rita's bad influence. Finally, to the Seniors of 1982, the very best of luck.

I, Jamie Ray Oberle, being of very sound mind and body, will this, the only thing that was willed to me, all four fourths of Milwaukee. To Mr. Robert DeBrock I leave a fourth, to Mr. John McReynolds I leave a fourth, and to Nells Christensen I leave the other two-fourths as I think he can handle more than a fourth. P.S. I didn't will Renee anything since she's got it all.

I, Krista Oloffson, being of rock-n-roll mind and party body, do hereby will to Julie Burba a lifetime supply of concert tickets of her choice, a large bag of plain M & M's, and one bottle of warm schnapps. Thus I'll know she's in good shape for the concerts; to Eileen Sullivan, one batch of non-hardening, ready-made fondant and my forgiveness for quitting detasseling with only two hours to go; to Adri Rombouts, some good jokes and the ability to defend oneself; lastly to Kathy Lane, my ability to act totally insane during volleyball season and get away with it, some therapeutic exercises to correct her "Igor" walk, and my deepest and best wishes concerning her family, detasseling, and her love life.

I, Todd Frederick Polte, will to Carl Etheridge one third of my coordination so he won't be stumbling all over the court next year; to Matt Etheridge, about five more inches of height; to Mr. Kerley, one 6'5" freshman to go with next year's frosh-soph basketball team; to Vernon Martin, I will absolutely nothing since he has everything.

I, Larry Rowland, will to Jim Jensen and Mike Rowland, my party places so you won't get caught by Deputy Shipp.

I, Dan Sale, being of sound mind and body, will to anyone who will take it my new book entitled "Dan's Pukey Puns" and that rotten apple that has been in my locker all year; to Renee Fordham, a blowup Jamie doll so that she won't get lonely during noon hour; to any class that is dumb enough to take it, the inability to receive higher than a 3rd place rating on any of their floats all four years.

I, Sofia Sternäng, being of sound mind and healthy body, do hereby will to Cheryl Notschaele my ability to answer the question, "What's new?" fifty times a day; to Amy Erickson, my inborn skill in portraying innocence; to the Reader's Theatre Team, my capacity to sing the calliope song over and over and over again. Last, but not least, to Dan Sale, my natural instinct to be afraid of tornadoes.

I, Pam VanDeKeere, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will to Teri Hedrick, one rough, tough, "just off of work" guy wearing a flannel shirt with a hole in the sleeve and a pair of "not too neat" Levi's. I also will to my best friend and chemistry lab partner, Sherry Hansen, the ability to complete an experiment, get some kind of a result, and clean up before school gets out for summer vacation. I also will the 2nd year Spanish class my ability to love Spanish enough to take one more year of it.

I, Penny White, will Darla Blackert her favorite drink and a person with all the solutions to her problems.

CLASSES

JUNIORS — CLASS OF 1983

The Junior Class started out the year by making early plans for Homecoming. The theme for our float was "Sail on to a Victory." We received a 3rd place on our float this year, but are hoping to improve in the standings next year. Our attendants were Eileen Sullivan and Matt Etheridge.

For our first money-making project, we decided to sell Katherine Beich candy. For our second money-making project we had a fish supper on March 26, 1982. Both money-making projects were a great success.

We decided to have prom at Emerald Hills Country Club in Sterling this year and the theme for prom was "Keep on Loving You." Our attendants were Susie Hunt and Robbie Hix.

The Juniors would like to thank Mr. Ricci for all of the help he gave us during our Junior year. We really appreciated it.

The Sophomores started off the year pretty well with our first place float entitled "Celebration" which was a big jump from last year's blimp!! We elected Bonnie Michlig and David Anderson as our sophomore attendents in the Homecoming festivities.

One of the highlights of this year was getting our class rings early, which we received in March. We had two money-making projects this year. Our class supper was held in November and we served chili. For our second project we sold Katheryn Beich candies in February. Both were a profitable success.

Overall, it was a very good year and next year we are looking forward to being upper classmen!!!!!!!!!

Our Freshman year all started with initiation. Actually, it was fun — with the exception of the girls running around on Main Street in their pajamas and the boys having to play buck-buck!!

Next came Homecoming. Our float theme was "The Greatest American Hero" which earned a second place rating. The attendants for the Homecoming dance and festivities from the Freshman Class were Stephanie Gripp and Larry Hewitt.

During the Holiday Tournament we raffled a television which was won by Marlene Carlson.

All in all the Freshman Class had a great year, and we're looking forward to being Sophomores!!

SPEECH SHOWCASE

The Readers Theater show was titled, "Old Friends," compiled by Mrs. Lynn Reha, our speech coach. The show was based on two old friends reminiscing their past while sitting on a park bench. The cast consisted of Todd Polte, Valerie Michlig, Sofia Sternang, Amy Erickson, Cheryl Notschaele, Mike Foy, Sandy Lootens, and Laurie Wessel.

After several performances for the school, the team took their show to Districts which were held at Streator. The Team did a very fine job and received the 4th place award. Todd Polte was named to the All Star Cast. Congratulations to Coach Reha and her team!

Sandy Lootens placed fourth at Olympia High School and Ottawa in Oratorical Declamation. Sandy also won a fifth place at District Tournament.

John Daley won a fifth place at Districts in Extemporaneous Speaking.

Cheryl Notschaele received a fifth place at District Tournament in Original Comedy.

Julie Burba won a third place at District Tournament in Radio Speaking.

Mike Foy received a third at Ottawa, first at Districts, and a fifth at Sectionals in Humorous Interpretation.

Many people have asked "Why do Our Town, it has been done here before?" No doubt, it has, since it is the most often presented play in American theater history. This kind of record testifies to the play's greatness. The enduring message and universal appeal make it a favorite, enjoyed by player and audience alike. It presents an individual learning experience for students. For the third year the Home Economics Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Hahne, is preparing the dinner. Much time and effort have gone into the preparation for the dinner portion of the evening. We appreciate all the work.

BAND

Under the direction of Tim Bartholomew, music was provided for many of the activities during the year. The first presentation of musical talents was at the football games in the fall in which the high school band provided entertainment and spirit during the game. The marching skills of the band were shown in the Homecoming parade (left). During the year, the band also played at the basketball games. On March 6, eight of the Manlius High School music students participated in the music contest which was held at Augustana College. In an instrumental solo, Sofia Sternäng played her flute in which she received a first place. Teri Hedrick and Rita Peterson played a duet on clarinet and flute in which they earned a second place. March 30 was the day for the Indian Valley Conference's Band Festival which was held at the Fieldhouse in New Bedford. The band consisted of more than a hundred students. Representing Manlius High School were Rita Peterson, Sofia Sternäng, and Trudy Gerbitz on flute, Teri Hedrick on clarinet, Kim Peterson on saxophone, Mike McVey on cornet, and Michelle Foy on baritone. Congratulations to Mr. Bartholomew for his fine work in coaching and practicing with these students.

We took part in the Tampico and Tiskilwa Invitationals as well as the IESA District meet. The team placed 12th in the BVEC meet. Outstanding boys were Jeff Wessel and Chris Wirth who also won the "Falcon" trophies. Bob Sierens, Jeff Hochstatter, and Jeff Wessel qualified for the IESA sectional meet with their performances at the District. Congratulations to Coach Poling and his men.

The Junior High Girls Track season consisted of eight meets — one duel meet, four triangular meets and four ribbon meets. Since the teams were so small, the conference ranking was not high, but several ribbons were won at each meet by the girls. At the Tampico Invitational, the team was awarded four third-place ribbons, one for each of the girls running in the 440-yard relay — Mae Jaggers, Becky Martin, Liz Hedrick, and Amy Polte. In the IESA District Meet, a total of 15 ribbons were won. On the Class B Team, Amy Hall received a fifth place ribbon in the 100 Meter low hurdles and a fourth-place ribbon in the 1600 Meter run. Brenda White brought home a fifth-place ribbon for the 400 Meter run and Monica Nodine won a third-place ribbon in the high jump. The Class B 400 Meter Relay Team of Amy Erickson, Brenda White, Amy Hall, and Monica Nodine won fourth place. On the Class A Team, Liz Hedrick won a fifth-place ribbon in the 100 Meter dash.

Each year two Manlius Falcon Track Awards are given, one to a sixth or seventh grade girl and one to an eighth grade girl. To determine these awards the girls received points for attending practices and participating and placing in events. The Manlius Falcon Track Award for the sixth-seventh grade division went to Liz Hedrick. In the eighth grade division, the winner was Mae Jaggers. Congratulations to these winners and to Coach Debbie Brewer for her hard work.
